ABOUT BMG

Buddha Music Group was created by conscious entrepreneur, Marc Devoe in 2007. Marc's intention was for any artist signed with BMG to be fully self-expressed and contributing positive messages to the planet, hence BMG's motto: "Raising the Vibrations of the Planet Through Art & Music."

As a disabled military veteran, Marc understands that the most powerful weapons in transforming the world are music & art. At the ripe age of 12, he found his calling in promotional work, but not until meeting his wife, Katie, did he dive into his own self-realization and become aware that he wanted to completely transform the realm of conscious music.

With the creation of Buddha Music Group, Marc hopes to be the catalyst in transforming the world into one where he and others can raise their children with peace of mind and love in their hearts. Buddha Music Group is committed to giving back to the planet by working closely with local and national non-profits. BMG works to make huge impacts for a variety of charities focusing on anti-bullying, at-risk youth, veterans, environmental challenges, and many more.
